

THIS WEEK I LEARNED...

HOW TO BE A SCIENTIST

KEEP AN OPEN MIND

- You probably won't end up where you planned
- Be open to opportunities that

BE PASSIONATE

- Study a subject you love
- Keep asking questions and being curious

TAKE INITIATIVE

- Send out emails and applications
- Ask for advice and help

BE RESILIENT

- Your experiments won't have the results you want a lot of the time
- Answers won't always be

BE FRIENDLY

- Being a friendly lab partner makes everyone's day better
- If you help people out people will
